

20863 – 5000 sqm plantation land with full of cloves in Kintamani

Description

A strategic plantation land available for freehold sale with details:

- Location: Kintamani, Bangli-Bali.
- It is perfectly on the main road side with 7 meters hot-mix access road.
- The total size of the land is 5000m² or 50are with full productive clove trees on it.
- This land legally has had freehold certificate.
- The contour of the land are flat and gently sloping.
- The spatial of this land situated on Farming/Plantation zone, so it is unable to build up only for farming purposes with any kind of plants, that's depend on you whether you like to continue the productive plant on it right now or change it into something else that suit to the weather in this area that you think would be better and more profitable.

This land also would become a great asset as future investment while still being able to get benefit of it. This land is suitable for own execution or for rental purposes. Well known that Kintamani is a district in highland area of East Bali. The locals incomes mostly from the farming eventhough this regions has a great surroundings which compatible for tourism aspects and attracts tourists to visit but it still far from modernization and tourist influences. The people in the area are far more traditional than most of Bali.

PRICE IDR 24,000,000/are

Date Created

2023/06/04

Author

agung-devata